	Update on 'Triangle Development
9.	Philip Reeve Chairman of the Triangle taskforce gave an update on events since our last meeting: Since the last Parish Council meeting the taskforce has discussed with the school Academy Trust their involvement with the Development Brief. This is non-existent. Their concerns relate to the area allocated which may not be useable, the wrong siting of the MUGA as too remote for school inclusion and the car park not being sufficiently located to ensure its use will be maximised and take parents away from dropping off and collecting pupils along School Road. On November 5 th the Cabinet of West Suffolk Council unanimously adopted the Development Brief with the Portfolio Holder recognising there are issues to be resolved for the community and school. Ward Councillor Sarah Broughton and Mrs Elaine Read spoke of their concerns with the Draft Brief, in that it doesn't relate sufficiently to the Great Barton Neighbourhood Plan. The Chairman of the Triangle taskforce outlined a lack of documents to enable Cabinet members to make informed decisions and demonstrated comparisons to other West Suffolk Council Development Briefs. A Teams meeting was held between Suffolk County Council Education, Barley Homes and the Triangle taskforce with Councillor Hopfsensperger. The concerns of the school were raised and Suffolk County Council Education department agreed to discuss with Barley Homes the issues and to move forward before a hybrid planning application is early 2025. The Triangle taskforce are seeking greater involvement with the portfolio holder and other stakeholders to influence the imminent planning application. The Triangle taskforce has made several recommendations one being to contract a civil engineer to produce a scope of works for the Mill Road entrance. This would ensure that all potential safety concerns are properly addressed. The estimated cost for this service is approximately £2,500. In anticipation of a planning application expected in early 2025, the taskforce recommends a leaflet drop to all properties in the village to advise and inform residents. Additionally, a public meeting is recommended to be held once all relevant planning applications are received, allowing residents to review the information and voice their opinions.
